

YOU ARE HIS HEARTS DESIRE

Do you take the time in your day to day life to talk to Jesus? If you do visit with the Lord do you ever think about where and when that fellowship will take place? Have you made or prepared a special meeting place for you and Him to meet? Have you ever opened up your hearts hidden secrets and intimate desires to Him?

Truly he desires to be intimate and very close to you. The word from His heart tells us that He looks and seeks us out for a relationship of love, friendship and intimacy. He would leave the 99 close friends by His side to look diligently for you if have wandered away until He found you. He asks us to draw near to Him and then He promises to draw close to us. He also calls out to us and says, 'please come unto me all of you that are weary and loaded down with the cares, weights, and the burdens of this life's hard journey. He will give us rest and refreshing just as a Shepard does his flock of sheep. He desires to watch us and guard our steps from all of this life's dangers and pit falls. What guidance, love and compassion He gives to all of His friends.

Have you ever resisted this kind of love from Him? Jesus really desires to be your most trustworthy and intimate of friends. Many times we all go astray, harden our hearts, and cease from making room in our hearts and for Him. This must sadden Him. Truly that is when He must gather up His own strength within Himself on our own behalf. He then reaches out once again toward us with His great and powerful hands. He then faithfully, gently, and without any condemnation touches us with His staff of kindness and places us safely back into His fold. Truly, love and comfort are His first, middle, and last name! Why then dear friends do any of us resist Him?

Today is the first day of the rest of your life. Life today, this moment, and 'right now' are one of our greatest gifts and opportunities Jesus gives us. Today He is calling you and me to a deeper commitment and relationship. He will never make us visit, talk, or pray to Him. Nor does He ever force or manipulate us to worship Him! But He waits very patiently on us. Yes, He waits for us to come humbly to Him. He wants us to respond with sincerity and truth in our hearts, as He reaches out His nail scared hands toward us to begin a fresh and new intimacy. His compassion and forgiveness flows every second, every minute and hour of our life for us to meet with Him. So I therefore will encourage you my friend to talk with Him today. Yes, please make a special room for Him in your heart and inner being for the master, Jesus. He will not disappoint you. You are very precious to Him. He will not find fault with you or reject you. You are His hearts desire.
